Otto anni addietro appresi dai Media di Tecnonucleo l'incredibile vicenda umana di Gary McKinnon disabile, hacker e cittadino britannico.

Gary era un giovane disabile mentale affetto dalla Sindrome di Asperger: una forma particolare di autismo, che compromette gravemente la capacità di socializzazione dell'individuo, lasciandone intatte le qualità mentali di carattere tecnico.

In Italia una community legata a performance di cyberdadismo prende a cuore la questione, e prima produce un nonPOST la cui traduzione su Wordpress UK ha oltre 500 repost...

Your views on extradition wanted

Monday, 08 Nov 2010

Members of the public can have their say on a review into the UK's extradition arrangements from today.

Extradition is the process which allows countries to make formal requests to each other for the return of suspects to stand trial for a crime in the country it was committed.

An independent review of the UK's extradition laws was announced by the Home Secretary in September. As part of that review, the public has until 31 December to contribute views.

Efficient and fair

The review panel is being led by the Rt Hon Sir Scott Baker and is focusing on five areas to ensure that the UK's arrangements work both efficiently and in the interests of justice. These areas are:

- the Home Secretary's powers to stop extradition
- the operation of the European Arrest Warrant, which deals with extradition requests between European countries
- where a crime is mainly committed in the UK, whether the person should be tried here
- · whether the US-UK Extradition Treaty is unbalanced

VISIT TO LONDON

Classified By: Ambassador Louis B. Susman for reasons 1.4 (b/d).

-- Gary McKinnon Extradition Case - The PM will likely raise with the Secretary (as he has with the Ambassador) the extradition case of Gary McKinnon. McKinnon is a 43-year old computer hacker with Aspergerã€"s Syndrome who is wanted for prosecution in the U.S.; he is accused of hacking into U.S. government systems in 2001 and 2002. McKinnon has gained enormous popular sympathy in his appeal against extradition; the UKã€"s final decision is pending. The case has also caused public criticism of the U.S.-UK extradition treaty. In August, PM Brown, in a one-on-one meeting with the Ambassador, proposed a deal: that McKinnon plead guilty, make a statement of contrition, but serve any sentence of incarceration in the UK. Brown cited deep public concern that McKinnon, with his medical condition, would commit suicide or suffer injury in imprisoned in a U.S. facility. The Ambassador has raised this proposal with AG Holder and would be happy to brief the Secretary in more detail.
